THE "SECOND" ALBEMARLE MEETING. John L. O'Neal in the Chair; J. A. Garrett, Secretary; Shelton F. Lake, R. R. Prentis, Eugene Davis, James Alexander, John Hart and John Saunders committee to report resolutions; and the following resolutions unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we have accepted in good faith the arbitrament of battle upon the issues which divided the North from the South, and that we bear to the Government of the United States the allegiance of law-abiding citizens. That we have reserved from surrender the honor and self-respect which are, or ought to be, the most valued possessions of a people; of which they cannot be despoiled by armed force or hostile legislation, but which are in jeopardy when made to occupy a secondary position. That whilst a manly acquiescence in the situation becomes a vanquished people, we cannot consent that the degree of submission should be regulated by the rage of the conqueror, but are persuaded that abject behavior will rob misfortune of its dignity and forleit the respect and sympathy of the world. . That to seek admission into the dominant party, which has wrought our degradation and rain, is a humiliation which it has not the right to demand and which we ought not to

That we deem it the policy of Virginia to keep aloof from national parties until admitted to the National Council, and that meantime her citizens should address themselves as best they may to their local and State affairs. That in the judgment of this meeting every citizen who can ought to register, that at the proper time he may vote as his best judgment | and Ground Bones. may direct.

WHISKEY FRAUDS. -The New York Times makes a damaging exposition of the "gigantic frauds in the Internal Revenue." Whiskey, it was estimated, should pay a tax of $100,-000,000. There were 90 million gallons consumed annually in the United States prior to the war. Supposing the $2.00 tax decreased the amount 20,000,000 gallons, we should produce seventy million gallons, and if but threefourths of this paid the tax, it would raise over a hundred million dollars. Last year that tax realized but thirty-seven millions, and this year it will get less than twenty millions, which for two months back, it has not been receiving at the rate of ten million. With a two dollar tax, and the present price of grain, whiskey actually costs upwards of $2.50 a gallon, yet it can be bought for $1.60 and was selling at $1.25. The Times asserts that it is on forged bonds that most of the frauds have been perpetrated. It wants to know what becomes of at $25 to $250, making a safe and sure investment the revenue from the thirty thousand gallons to parties unemployed, who may have a small daily consumed in New York and Brooklyn.-The twenty assessors and collectors of New York are chargeable with the loss of eight million of dollars of revenue within six mouths; and the Times enumerates a number of them, useful science. The condensing of milk has, within a few years, opened a new and profitable source of industry and economy, and now a French chemist, Mr. Mabrun, has proved by a practical test that fresh milk can be kept for almost any given period, perfectly sweet and S good, simply by the complete exclusion of atmospheric air.

Mr. Mabrun has recently laid his process, and its result in a test of six months' duration, before the French Academy of Sciences, who have reported favorably, and further awarded the chemist a prize of fifteen hundred francs, about three hundred dollars.

After this, our dairy women and housewives should be able to keep their milk sweet as long as they please, "in spite of thunder."

THE LEGION OF HONOR.—The whole world is going downhillwards, most evidently. The French Cross of the Legion of Honor has been conferred by Napoleon upon many Foreigners and several Americans, Chickering, the piano man, being among the number. Two hours after receipt of the banble, for chance of obtaining which many a gallant fellow has rushed to certain death, our Boston chevalier telegraphs to his brother and partner in Boston the following, which appears in the city papers next morning: "I guess we are ahead of all piano manufacturers now. The Emperor has has bestowed, &c.

The Cross of the Legion become an advertisement. "Imperious Cresar dead and turned to clay." - Petersburg Index.

A CONTROVERSY AMONG FRENCH MASONS. At the recent annual meeting of the French Freemasons the question was raised, whether or not the use of the formula, "to the glory of the Great Architect of Universe," was to be held obligatory in all cases. M. M. Parrott, Duclas and Engene Pelletan favored the widest liberty of conscience, and thought that Freemasonry should not seem to commit itself to theism. On the other side, M. M. Garrison and Hermitte favored a loyal adherence to the traditions. At the same time, in the opinion of the former, there was nothing in the phrase to exclude or embarrass an atheist. The debate was warm, and resulted in the retention of the formula, by a vote of one hundred against sixty-seven.
